DETAILED ACTION

This is the First Office Action in response to the above identified patent application filed on February 2, 2004.

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 3, 4, 8 , 10, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
 - a. Claim 3, line 2, the limitation “the operating force detecting means” lacks proper antecedent basis.
 - b. Claim 4, line 2, the limitation “the position detecting means” lacks proper antecedent basis.
 - c. Claim 8, line 2, the limitation “the position detecting means” lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kesling (USP 2,323,878).

Kesling discloses an automatic transmission apparatus for a vehicle comprising: an operating inputting apparatus having a select lever (29); a power assisting apparatus (41-49) adding an assisting force to an operating force input to the operating inputting apparatus; a first transmitting means (22) for transmitting the operating force from the operating inputting apparatus to the power assisting apparatus; and a second transmitting means (23) for transmitting an output force from the power assisting apparatus to the transmission, wherein the operating inputting apparatus is provided in a vehicle body member near a steering wheel, and the power assisting apparatus is provided in a vehicle body member in the vicinity of the passenger's foot, and wherein the operating inputting apparatus and the power assisting apparatus are arranged apart from one another.

6. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tokumaru (JP 3-265759).

Tokumaru illustrates in Figure 1 an automatic transmission apparatus for a vehicle comprising: an operating inputting apparatus having a select lever (4); a power assisting apparatus (8) adding an assisting force to an operating force input to the operating inputting apparatus; a first transmitting means (6a) for transmitting the operating force from the operating inputting apparatus to the power assisting apparatus; and a second transmitting means (6b) for transmitting an output force from the power assisting apparatus to the transmission, wherein the operating inputting apparatus is provided in a vehicle body member near a steering wheel, and the power assisting apparatus is provided in a vehicle body member in the vicinity of the passenger's foot, and wherein the operating inputting apparatus and the power assisting apparatus are arranged apart from one another.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2, 6, 7, 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. Claims 3, 4, 8, 10, and 11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the shift device of JP 5-87237.
